Bergerac, capital city of the Dordogne river

- ❑ It is surrounded by the vineyards stretching out of sight at his feet, through hills and valleys. From these vines tightened around it, like a peaceful army, is produced year after year, the eponymous wines, the “Monbazillac” wines.

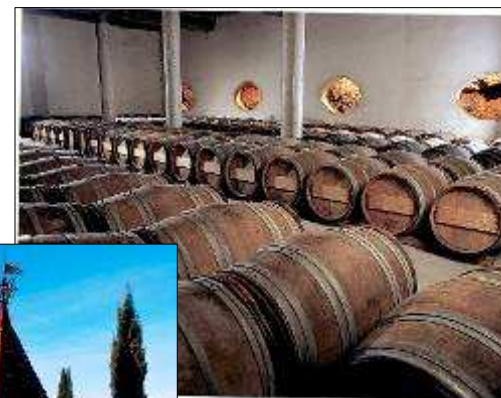

- ❑ Nowadays the castle is uninhabited. Its visit lead you to a a trip back in time and local history, between Wars of Religion, the wine and popular local figures.
